

Resilience Partners Fund II completes its first transaction outside Spain, gaining exposure to the specialized hospitality industry

The direct lending firm Resilience Partners Fund II S.C.A., SICAR, has closed its ninth investment, the first outside Spain, continuing its commitment to financing the growth of SMEs. Following this transaction, HolaCamp adds Camping Albufeira to its chain, which spans 26 hectares and is among the five largest campsites in Portugal. Focused on itinerant camping, it also offers guests complementary accommodations such as caravans, bungalows, and glamping services.

With this new investment, Resilience Partners is supporting an outstanding team and business that manages nine campsites and is in the process of national and international expansion. Resilience Partners gains direct exposure to the Portuguese market through a business with broad development prospects that promotes a sustainable and quality tourism model. HolaCamp is committed to respecting the natural environment, energy efficiency, the use of renewable resources, and integration with local communities, offering guests an authentic and responsible experience in contact with nature.

Alfonso Leprovost, CEO of HolaCamp, stated, “We decided to acquire Camping Albufeira due to its privileged location in a natural environment, as it is also a top international tourist destination. Its large size will allow us to enable different spaces according to the different types of clients we have.” On the other hand, María Sabugal, partner at Resilience Partners, added, “We are supporting an exceptional team that grows day by day and is a benchmark in the industry. They have valued our flexibility to support growth and take the company to the next phase of development.

This latest investment is made through Resilience Partners Fund II, currently in the investment process with nine diversified investments in various sectors. The firm continues to focus on its investment process, with a solid portfolio and providing liquidity recurrently to investors.

About Resilience Partners

About HolaCamp

HolaCamp, a camping operator company, specialized in the management of campsites and the tour operation of glamping and tiny house accommodations, was founded in February 2023, continuing the long family tradition in the sector of its founders, Alfonso Leprovost and Alejo Olano. Along with Hector Fina’s experience in distributing glamping tents for large events, they decided to start this project. Shortly after, Martin Becker joined HolaCamp, bringing his financial vision. Under the claim “The next generation camping company,” HolaCamp was born with the aim of designing, creating, and managing #CampStories, spaces of comfort, tranquility, and beauty to live, share, and remember great stories, in harmony with nature.
